

A Weekend with Jane Austen

April 20-22, 2012

Toronto, Canada

Hands-on workshops
Demonstrations
Informal lectures
Regency Fashion Show
Concert
Evening Ball with live music
(all dances taught and led: Agreeable Society, Decorations, Table Games and
Elegant refreshments
No partner, dance experience or costume necessary)

And more!

www.JaneAustenDancing.ca

Spend a weekend in Jane Austen's world

We all love Austen's writing. Now find out where it came from.

A Weekend with Jane Austen is designed to acquaint you with the elements of daily life in Regency England. From clothing to food to such basic activities as writing a letter – a much more common occurrence than it is today! – the actual experience of physical and social existence was very different. Where we hit “send”, she took out her writing desk, ruled her paper, cut her quill, and perhaps made her own ink. Find out more about her fascinating milieu by attending informal lectures, workshops and social events. Visit buildings from the late Georgian era, taste foods that were known to her and her family. Learn about the customs and rhythms of life in her time.

Spend the weekend with Jane Austen.

Programme for April 20-22, 2012 (subject to change)

Lecture, display and demonstration: historical Lacemaking

Talk: dancing in the writing of Jane Austen and Fanny Burney

Lecture: late-Georgian portraiture

Did she or didn't she? Underwear in Jane Austen's time

Workshop on Letter-writing (materials included)

Regency Fashion show & Regency Food

Concert of music from Austen's own collection

Regency Table games

Tour of Late-Georgian buildings in Toronto

Dance workshop

Ball with live music, decorations and elegant refreshments

More activities will be added and the site updated frequently.

Pricing, schedule, registration details, and information on accommodations in Toronto will appear shortly.

To receive bulletins regarding this or any other JaneAustenDancing or Danceweavers event, please sign up on our mailing list via the home page (www.JaneAustenDancing.ca) or contact us at JaneAustenDancing@Danceweavers.ca